

Group life insurance

Can your loved ones afford to lose your income?

You work hard to protect the people you care about, but some hardships can't be predicted. With group life insurance, you can help ensure your loved ones have the financial protection they need if you pass away. And by enrolling in this valuable insurance at work, you can take advantage of typically lower costs and a simplified process.

Why group life insurance?

If you suddenly pass away, the loss of your income can make a difficult situation for those you leave behind even worse.

Life insurance can help ensure they can continue to make student loan, car or mortgage payments, save for college or invest in their financial future.

How does it work?

You can purchase group life insurance when you join your company or, if applicable, during an annual enrollment period. You'll select the amount of coverage you want, subject to any required evidence of insurability,¹ and name the beneficiaries of your policy.

If you pass away while your policy is in effect, your beneficiaries will receive a lump-sum payment of your coverage amount.

Examples

Meet Aaron

Aaron knows how important it is to ensure his family is cared for if the worst happens. That's why he enrolled in his work's supplemental life insurance plan. He made sure he had enough insurance to cover his family's bills, pay off the house and send his daughter to college if he unexpectedly passed away.

Here's an estimation of how much coverage Aaron might need:

Housing expenses	$200,000
Income replacement How long do you want to extend your income stream?
Number of years	2
X current annual income	$60,000
Total income replacement	$120,000
Education expenses	$40,000
Total life insurance needed	$360,000
Current individual life insurance	$100,000
Group life insurance needed through work	$260,000

Meet Jenny

Jenny worked hard to get where she is today. But between her student loans, monthly car payment and her credit card balance from moving out on her own for the first time, she knows that having group life insurance can help reduce the financial burden she'd put on her parents, who cosigned her loans, if she were to pass away.

Here's an estimation of how much coverage Jenny might need:

Student loans	$80,000
Monthly car payment ($300 x 48 months)	$14,400
Credit card balance	$5,600
Total income replacement	$20,000
Group life insurance needed through work	$100,000
